and under the jurisdiction of Bishop Gregg and Bishop N. R. Toke. Both bishops were appointed and consecrated in this country, and owe to the American Church the authority they possess.

The Presbytery of Edinburgh (Church of Scotland) has received a complaint from four hundred and seventy-nine members and adherents of the North Leith Parish Church against certain steps alleged to have been taken to introduce an organ in the public worship of that church. The complaint says that the petitioners "strongly object to the use of such an instrument in public worship, as being at variance with the practice and traditions of the Church of Scotland, as offensive to the tastes and feelings of many Scotch Presbyterians, and as not many Scotch Presbyterians, and as not conductive to the service of praise being a harvest. Our wools have been at a very taken part in by the whole congregation."

began with the hymn, in English, "The Church's One Foundation." Pere Hyachithe then preached in French for an hour, on the text, "Behold how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." High mass was said at the decorated altar by Bishop Reinkons, assisted by Bishop Herzog and M. Loyson, who were vasted in simple white surplices and stoles. Bishop Cotterili, of Edinburg, who sat during the mass in the seat in the choir, ascended the steps of the altar and knelt with Bishop Herzog and M. Loyson, and received with them the holy communion in both hands from the holy communion i Church's One Foundation." Pere Hya. The Congregationalist contained recently the report of a memorable "experience meeting," held in a corner of the denominational bookstore, in Boston, on a certain Monday morning. One of the company knew of nine ministerial brethren, without regular work, who came to the city on the previous Saturday, hoping to secure "a chance to preach;" two only succeeded, and in one case this was a grautitous service. Another, in relating his "experience," knew "of four others whom obtained a culpit, and beard of make this the leading Fair of the key will have ready for a fixed that one out of every four real invalids whogo to Denver, Col., to recover health, never return to the East or South except as a corpse. Dean Stanley has been preaching in a Presbyterian Church near Perth, Scotland.

The Jesuits in France point out that the number of pilgrima to the wonder working grotto at Lourdes is double what it was last year, and hint that this is a plous revulsion from the iniquities of the Jules Ferry Education bill.

The present head of the most celebrated Mohammedan college, the University ElAzhar, at Cairo, is a Jewish convert, Abbasi—according to Ebers, a son of a prominent Israelite—whose conversion to Islam caused considerable excitement. Abbasi has held the position since 1871. He has 10,000 students and 300 professors under his control, and receives $10,000 yearly, and a palace for a residence.

Sinultaneously with the revision of the English Bible a similar work is going on in Germany. Luther's translation of the Scriptures is in the hands of a critical committee which has been summoned to meet again this autumn. "This committee" says a German newspaper, "consisting partly of evangelical divines and partlike in the Abbasi has head for evangelical divines and partince the Grotter of Lourden is a subject son which it has hither to been in

As it has been said that he who knows and the programment of the programment only his own language knows none, so it is in regard to any single system of religion. Even Christian theology cannot be ion. Even Christian theology cannot be nderstood,—its genius and development, -unless the theology of other religions is tudied. Indeed, to understand Christian y one should know scarcely less of other widows and orphans of ministers. On the first of this month $25,000 were needed to meet the exigencies of this fund, which is one of the most imperative charities of the Presbyterian Church. Nearly two thousand persons have become dependent upon this source of relief, through the infirmity or death of those who had devoted their lives to the ministry of the gospel.

The Reformed Episcopalians in England have proclaimed their independence of the Reformed Episcopal Church in America, from which they sprang. Bishop Gregg announces that henceforth the Reformed Episcopal Church in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Iroland." All the process and the theology as this could not be pursued in the interest of a single r not even Christianity. Insteachers would need to be religious philosophers and scholars in the broadest sense,—not de-nominational Christians. It would be a grand achievement, if President Eliot should succeed in effecting such a result as this at Harvard University. It would be glory enough for a life time.

Extracts From a Letter From the South

From a private letter from a gentle man located at Adelaide, South Australia, we have been permitted to make the fol lowing extracts: "We think we are on the eye of better have been cited to appear before the Presbytery and defend their interests.

A GATHERING of old Catholies has just been held at Berne, where Bishop-Reinkens, Bishop Herzog and Pere Hyacinthe met the Bishop of Edinburg. The service began with the hymn, in English, "The filter days from Sydney to San Francisco."

Description of the Catholies was the proportion of the control o with "no man to hire them." A pathetic tale was told of one of the applicants, who had come from a distance at considerable expense, as he had been five Sabbaths without employment, with a family of five children and an invalid sister, and felt that "something must be done." The body of the discussion in the conference sturned upon the manifest evils of their present (Congregational) system of supplies and settlements. One brother affectingly closed his remarks, as he related his struggles since his leaving the seminary to the present time—"and (now) I find myself and family affoat, with no harbor in view."

A warren in the Independent conceives that a crisis is imminent in the Methodist Church. It is called upon, he says, to define its position, at no distant day, on several subjects on which it has hitherto been are subjects on which it has hitherto been the control of the conspicuously in front of the Grand piano, and we were a little surprised when Prof. Herrmann made his appearance on the call of the control of the contro stage and took his seat out me chair, piaced at what seemed to us a rather perilous distance, but we soon discovered that ample room was necessary in his execution of the most wonderful finger gymnastic. Prof. Hermann is a pupil of Lisat's, and Lisat is quite the rage just at present. To drift along with the popular current you must talk Lisat, if you cannot execute him, (we do not intend to insinuate that Lisat, himself, is to be executed, but his compositions, or transcriptions rather). If one has never had tact or patience enough to master even his "Masch from Tannbauser," you must not allow your ignorance to creep out, oh, no! Gather up as much of Lisat as you may possess, il it is free from finger soils, that indicate continued practice, rub sooty fingers on the corners, rumple the pages, and place the collection topmost on your music rack, anything in the world to be popular.
